

A Child's Illness

The illness of a child is a life altering event for everyone involved. The emotional, physical, and spiritual impact a sick child has on a family and community can not be measured.

As with all health care interventions, it must be remembered that children are not little adults. They require specialized treatments and care designed specifically for them.

VNA has cared for children since its inception 50 years ago. Our staff receive pediatric training to provide routine and specialized care to children ages birth through 21 years of age.

Many services and treatments which used to require hospitalization can now be provided in the comfort and familiar surroundings of home. The familiarity and warmth of home and family can not be matched in any other setting. VNA understands this and works with the family to provide vital care and assistance in accommodating the special needs of the sick child.

Hospice and Palliative Care for Children

Our trained team of caregivers works with children who have serious or life-threatening illness. Using VNA's Hospice and Palliative Care services allows children to remain at home with family and friends maintaining a familiar lifestyle.

Nurses provide medical care in addition to Social Workers, Therapists, Home Care Aides, and Chaplains who are available to work with the patient and family, helping with care and coping with the illness. Trained Volunteers are available for companionship for the patient or other children, errands, story reading or providing a break for the parent or caregiver.

Patient qualifications include a condition or disease process that limits life expectancy, such as:

- Neurodegenerative disorders
- End-stage cancers or AIDS
- Profound retardation
- Neuromuscular diseases
- Inoperable cardiac defects
- Severe congenital anomalies
- Severe multisystem disorders
- Respiratory disorders

VNA Hospice and Palliative Care has an extensive Bereavement Program designed to assist family and friends, specifically focused on those who have lost a child at any age.

Most insurances cover the cost of Hospice care. Please call our VNA Customer Center to learn more about Hospice and Palliative Care or to obtain answers to insurance questions.
